

ARTEMIS

TENACIOUS INITIATIVE

In an organization, the employees need to approach their work to extend responsibilities beyond their immediate job descriptions. They should be willing to commit extra time and effort when the situation calls for it. Employees should relentlessly ask themselves is there any better way to do their work. There will always be a need in any organization for a leader who takes the initiative. These leaders are willing to help someone who is swarming. They propose solutions to problems, even those outside their area, when appropriate. Their engagement is contagious because they have an “owner’s perspective,” not just a “hired hand’s view” of the organization.

Artemis symbolizes confidence, courage, and independence. Similarly, one needs to be highly confident while initiating the actions independently. Atyaasaa brings Artemis intervention for the same and helps to imbibe the skills which enable to handle change, volunteer for challenging assignments and go above and beyond what is needed to do without being told.
